Gregory J. Weinig is a partner practicing in the areas of trusts and estates, including trust and estate planning, trust and estate administration, and trust and estate litigation. He is a Fellow of the American College of Trust and Estate Counsel (ACTEC), serving actively on its Fiduciary Litigation Committee. Greg works with an array of clients with diverse needs in trust and estate planning and administration, bringing his significant experience in trust and estate litigation matters to bear on his planning and administration activities. His trust and estate drafting and administration activities include work for clients across a wide spectrum of needs and complexity, residing both locally and across the country, the latter particularly including dynasty trusts, asset protection trusts, directed trusts, and other trust planning typically associated with a Delaware practice.

Greg has litigated in a number of high-stakes and smaller-scale fiduciary litigation matters, ranging from trust and will construction actions to multi-layered trust and will contests to asset protection trust matters. Greg also has an extensive practice in many other areas involving trusts and estates, such as working with institutional fiduciaries in trust review and intake, resolution of administrative matters, and risk management; representing fiduciaries and beneficiaries in contentious trust and estate situations that have stopped short of filed litigation; drafting and presenting consent petitions and other routine proceedings in the Delaware Court of Chancery; testifying as an expert witness in Court of Chancery estate matters; and serving as a Court-appointed guardian ad litem in both contested and uncontested matters before the Court of Chancery.

Chambers USA: High Net Worth[®] has ranked Greg in Band 1 among Delaware's Private Wealth practitioners. Chambers market sources commented that Greg is "fabulous at looking at tough situations and coming up with solutions to fix the issue," and that he is "very thorough and exact. He's just incredible; he knows estate planning inside and out, and makes recommendations which are right for each individual situation." Greg has also been selected for inclusion in The Best Lawyers in America[®] for Trusts and Estates, Trust and Estate Litigation, and Tax Law – earning the Delaware "Lawyer of the Year" designation (awarded to the individual attorney with the highest overall peer-feedback for a specific location and practice area) in 2021 for Trust and Estate Litigation and in 2020 for Tax Law. Greg has an AV[®] rating under Martindale-Hubbell's Preeminent[™] Peer Review certification, and has also been honored in Delaware Today's Top Lawyers for Trusts & Estates law.

Greg is a past chair of the Estates and Trusts Section of the Delaware State Bar Association, and currently serves as a primary drafter on its Trust Act Committee's annual updates to Delaware's trust and estate statutes. His pro bono activities include work with the "Mega Wills" event run by several Delaware pro bono organizations, and with other indigent clients having estate planning needs.

Greg's focus on wills and estates stems from his lifelong interest in genealogy. Tracing his ancestors has led him to travel and research extensively in the United States and Europe. He is also a member of several family associations and historical organizations, and has published articles in genealogical journals. A Delaware native, Greg resides in the Wilmington, Delaware area with his wife and two children.
